TOURIST ATTRACTIONS:

HANOI

- ◆ Hoan Kiem Lake - Known as the "Lake of the Returned Sword," this is a central natural freshwater lake and one of Hanoi's most iconic cultural landmarks. The lakeside offers beautiful scenery and is surrounded by charming French colonial architecture. Legend has it that Vietnamese hero King Le Loi returned a magical sword to a divine turtle here, giving the lake its name and rich historical and legendary significance.
- ◆ Hanoi Old Quarter - Also called the "36 Ancient Streets," each street historically specialized in a particular craft or trade, such as silver, paper, or silk. The traditional layout is still preserved, with narrow bustling alleyways blending historical charm with modern life. The area is filled with handicraft shops, souvenir stores, and local artist studios. Train Street is also located within the Old Quarter, where trains pass very close to residential houses, creating a uniquely Hanoi street scene.

HALONG BAY

- ◆ Halong Bay - Located in northern Vietnam, Ha Long Bay was recognized as a UNESCO World Natural Heritage site in 1994. Famous for its emerald waters, nearly 2,000 limestone islands, and spectacular caves, the bay offers stunning scenery. A half-day cruise allows visitors to admire these unique rock formations up close and explore the magnificent natural caves.

SAPA

- ◆ Cat Cat Village - A traditional Hmong village nestled in the Sapa valley, preserving the ethnic lifestyle and wooden houses. Visitors can enjoy scenic rice terraces, waterfalls, and forested mountains along the way, experiencing the culture and natural beauty of the minority people.
- ◆ Sapa Stone Church - A Gothic-style stone church built during the French colonial period; it is one of Sapa's most iconic landmarks. Located in the town center, the church features a solemn exterior and a lively surrounding area, making it a must-visit spot for photos.
- ◆ Moana Sapa - A popular Instagram-worthy spot in Sapa, known for its breathtaking mountain clouds and artistic installations. The area features the "Sky Gate," giant statues, and white staircases for photo opportunities, with panoramic views of the Fansipan mountains. On clear days, visitors can enjoy the mesmerizing misty scenery, making it one of the most visited photo attractions in Sapa.

FANSIPAN

- ◆ Fansipan - Reach Vietnam's highest peak, known as the "Roof of Indochina," by taking the Muong Hoa Mountain Train (round trip) and the cable car (round trip). Along the way, enjoy stunning cloud seas and continuous mountain ranges.
