TOURIST ATTRACTIONS:

PENGHU

- ◆ Profond Pier 3 - Penghu's largest duty-free shop offers travelers a boutique department store-style shopping experience. It features a curated selection of international luxury brands, beauty and fragrance labels, and trendy fashion, making it easy to stay in step with global style.
- ◆ Tianhou Temple - For those who live by the sea, Mazu, the goddess of the sea, serves as an essential spiritual guardian. Penghu Tianhou Temple is the oldest Mazu temple in Taiwan and has been designated a National Historic Monument.
- ◆ Shuncheng Gate - The old Magong City (also known as Makung City) covered an area of approximately 26 hectares and originally featured six gates: East Gate (Chaoyang), South Gate (Yingxun), West Gate, North Gate (Gongchen), Small South Gate (Jixu), and Small West Gate (Shuncheng). Due to the passage of time, all gates except Shuncheng Gate have been dismantled.
- ◆ UFO Pavilion - Situated along Fenggui Coast, this layered, milky-white observation pavilion resembles a mushroom or flying saucer, making it a striking and photogenic landmark.
- ◆ Shili Beach - Stretching over 1 km, this beach features coastal sand dunes and calm azure waters. Walk on the sand composed of coral and seashells, basking in the sun for a relaxing escape.
- ◆ Nanliao Ancient House - These traditional houses are built using coral limestone instead of bricks. Known for being warm in winter and cool in summer, they are both beautiful and sturdy examples of Penghu's vernacular architecture.
- ◆ Daguo Columnar Basalt - The entire mountain face is covered in this unique columnar basalt formation. After heavy rain, the basalt reflects on the water surface in the surrounding depressions, creating a remarkable and stunning natural landscape. It is one of the special natural attractions in Xiyu Township.
- ◆ Xiaochijiao Double Curved Bridge - Extending out into the sea from Xiaochijiao, this pure white bridge features elegant curves and green pavilions on both sides, making it a scenic coastal spot.
- ◆ Xiyu Ammunition Depot - A unique cultural site featuring military structures built by the Japanese Army in the early Japanese occupation era. The park includes cool underground ammo bunkers, tunnel-style depots known as "Iron-Walled Fortresses," and other rare examples of Japanese-era military architecture.

TAIPEI

- ◆ Jiufen Old Street - The liveliest street in Jiufen, crowded with street vendors and food stalls. The narrow alleys are lined with shops, offering an array of hot and aromatic snacks, including Jiufen taro balls, grass cake, taro cake, fish balls, fish soup, chicken rolls, and more. The abundance of delicious food makes it easy to wish for more stomachs to enjoy everything!
- ◆ Shifen Old Street - A narrow street where trains pass directly between rows of residential houses. On both sides of the street, many shops sell sky lanterns. Releasing sky lanterns on the railway tracks creates a charming and picturesque scene where the old street, railway, and lanterns come together in harmony.
